

BAPTIST HOST TO MEET IN CHICAGO

Annual Session of the National Body Begins Sept. 8.

DR. JORDAN'S PEACE PLEA.

Secretary of Foreign Mission Board Issues Open Letter In Which He Offers Remedy For the Present Discontent Among the Leaders—Explains Laws Governing the Convention.

Philadelphia.—The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the national Baptist convention will be held in Chicago beginning on Wednesday, Sept. 8. With the view of harmonizing the leaders of the various departments of the work, the Rev. Dr. L. G. Jordan, corresponding secretary of the foreign mission board of the convention, with headquarters at 624 South Eighteenth street, this city, has issued the following open letter to the members of the organization.

Dr. Jordan says: In the exciting controversy about the "commission form of government" and "chartering of the national convention" now going on our brethren have said some hard things about each other, and that in print too. "Liar," "breaking in jail," "deceivers" and such like we have called one another, but no one has suggested that we pray. Like a vulture tugging at the vitals of its prey, oh, how we have torn each other! Shall it be said that "it is in keeping with their racial traits"? There are two sets of brethren, holding opposing opinions as to the best method of running the affairs of the national Baptist convention—both meaning well. Knowing we are all here to stay "until death doth us part," why not think first before harshly judging one another? Read and consider these seven facts; do what is best for the cause:

Fact 1.—As for the commission, there is none. It is the executive board of the national Baptist convention with all the rights, powers and privileges of an executive board. Its creation and power were given by the national Baptist convention at Nashville and Philadelphia.

Fact 2.—This executive board is composed of the vice presidents of the various states, most of whom are presidents of their state conventions and are usually the best men of the states; the officers of the national convention, chairman and secretary of the various boards of the national Baptist convention. These men have no personal ends to gain; in fact, they are our brethren and only hope to have transmitted to our denomination for religious purposes, property and good will, accumulated by these boards as planned by the national Baptist convention, for carrying out the purposes for which it was organized.

Fact 3.—There are only two of our boards known as "national Baptist boards." Others, including our women, are the board or auxiliary of the national Baptist convention. Those known as "national Baptist boards" are the creatures of the national Baptist convention also. The officers and members of the two national Baptist boards never intended disloyalty, but it just happened so. When it happened, like confiding children, we did not correct it.

Fact 4.—By a careful reading of the charter it will be seen:

A. The charter says in plain words what our present constitution implies.

B. At present the national convention provides for the election of every member of the boards, through the state delegations, at its annual sessions.

C. The boards so elected have been organized (and this was intended to be done at the annual session of the convention) elect their officers. This has been done, followed by all but one board.

D. All property owned by the boards is the property of their creators—the national Baptist convention—and under our constitution the convention can order its disposal in the interest of any debts owed on any work so controlled by said board.

Fact 5.—The charter does not provide Washington as headquarters, as has been decided by a number of writers, but the convention "shall meet anywhere the body may decide by vote or bylaws, just as it has been doing for thirty-four years."

B. The charter is not "so drastic" that it does not provide, after all, that the national convention shall have a constitution and bylaws; telling how its officers are to be elected and how a place and time of meeting shall be selected.

Fact 6.—The seven incorporations are not perpetual; they die when we meet and adopt our constitution and bylaws. With us, the directors will be known as the ex-board of the national Baptist convention. We can let the selection of the board remain as it is; hence when a man falls of election by his state delegation, as a vice president of the national Baptist convention, whoever succeeds him, by the vote of his state, becomes a member of the executive committee, so with officers of the convention and boards; failure of election will fill their places with those who succeed them. Is not this fair? Then why should our readers lose their heads over thoughtless articles from the pens of what seems prattling men? "In your patience possess ye your souls" are the words of Jesus.

Fact 7.—The convention can decide in its new constitution that no president shall succeed himself at or not more than twice, or they can agree that he may succeed himself four times and a new man be elected. The national Baptist convention at Chicago can enact that the executive committee shall consist of twenty-one members, seven of whom shall be elected every year, thus allowing fourteen to hold over from year to year. The national Baptist convention can say by its new constitution, No money given by the people for one purpose shall be diverted to another. And, indeed, to do otherwise will be dishonest.

Now, brethren, let us cease biting and devouring each other. Let us pray—fully "ask wisdom of God, who giveth to all liberally and upbraideth not," and go to Chicago, not with carnal weapons nor in our own strength, but as servants of the Most High—go as men serving the interest of our people; as men looking to the God of the present and the future for guidance. Caesar and Napoleon were great men. Where are they? Only dust. Only the good or evil they did lives after them. Oh, so many big talking men whom we knew in associations and conventions, men who loved "prominence among the brethren," are gone and not remembered by us among whom they caused discord!

All of these things are matters of the national convention, of which each of us is a humble member, so why lose our heads, show ourselves unfit to serve as pastors or in any other capacity as leaders among an all too excitable people, who will love, hate, help or hinder—largely on our advice? There is power in prayer. We tell our people about Daniel and the Hebrews being delivered through prayer. Now, as men, let us practice what we preach, and at Chicago preach what we should practice at home.

There is a story told of Mr. D. L. Moody, telling how he was led into international service. The fire in Chicago had destroyed his church and scattered his people. While waiting for the finishing of his new building he went to Europe to hear the leading preachers and to study their methods of work. On one Sunday morning he was invited to spend the day with one of the largest churches. At the forenoon service things seemed cold; everything was drab until the great preacher regretted that he had an engagement for evening service. However, on returning to the evening service he found the house crowded. The services began about as the morning services ended, but along about the middle of the sermon the atmosphere completely changed.

At the close an appeal was made to the unsaved, and to the utter surprise of the preacher a large number arose in response to the invitation. Mr. Moody was confused and concluded that the people did not understand him. So he asked again, "All of you who wish to become Christians please retire to the adjoining room." A number of those retiring became Christians, and a great revival broke out, resulting in the conversion of hundreds of happy souls.

Mr. Moody sought the cause of this unusual awakening and traced it to the room of an invalid member of the church, a Christian worker who for years had prayed that Mr. Moody might preach in her church.

On that particular Sunday, having heard after the morning service from her sister that Mr. Moody had spoken that morning, this Christian interest, refusing to eat her midday meal, gave herself to prayer during the entire afternoon. It was the final tug in the long pull of years of intercession. It followed that this not only brought great blessings to this community, but placed Mr. Moody into a position of international leadership, made possible his widening spheres of influence and blessing throughout the world.

BRITISH IN THE TRENCHES AT LIERRE

Trench fighting, as depicted in the photograph above, has become one of the most distinctive features of modern warfare. Accordingly, most of the military operations during the great war spectacle, "War in Indiana," to be staged at the Indianapolis motor speedway, Monday, September 6, will revolve around entrenchments. Filled with infantry and machine gun platoons, these ditches are expected to blast forth sheets of flame that will annihilate everything before them.

NATIONAL NEGRO BUSINESS LEAGUE IN ANNUAL SESSION

Citizens of Boston Give Our Race a Warm Welcome.

Boston, Aug. 18.—To those who have watched the development of the National Negro Business league since its organization fifteen years ago, it has been to them something in the nature of a barometer of Negro progress. The program for the session which began in this city today at Convention hall indicates what rapid advancement the race has made along lines of commercial endeavor and shows that more and more the business men of the race are getting to the basic principles of modern business.

An analysis of the subjects included on its program finds the general thought behind the discussion falling into three great groups representing the three important factors in business—viz, production and manufacturing, wholesaling and retailing. The subjects are so arranged as to show the relative interdependence of each factor upon the other and the importance of their successful operation upon the future of the race.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS COVER WIDE SCOPE

Old North State Convention Adds New Features.

Extension Work Movement Suggested by Dr. A. M. Moore at Recent Annual Meeting Held at Washington, N. C. Creates Great Interest—State Organizer to Study Conditions.

Washington, N. C.—The host of Sunday school workers from among the 200,000 Baptists of our race in this state present at the recent annual meeting of the state Sunday school convention made a fine showing in their work. Dr. A. M. Moore, president of the convention, presided over the sessions, which were largely attended.

Among the noted religious and educational leaders who took an active part were Rev. Dr. C. S. Brown, principal of the Winton (N. C.) Normal institute and president of the Lott Carey foreign mission convention; Dr. A. W. Pegues, head of the Institute for Deaf and Blind Persons at Raleigh; Colonel James H. Young and many prominent women of our race.

One of the noteworthy features of the convention was the enthusiastic and pronounced approval of the great movement started by Dr. Moore for the good of the race in North Carolina. Dr. Moore, although a layman, has given his life to the furthering of religious and public activities, and as secretary and treasurer of the North Carolina Mutual and Provident association is doing a remarkable work for racial advancement in the state. He has made a careful study of conditions along the line of the public school system, which may be shown in the recommendations outlined below.

At the last session of the State Teachers' association held at Winston-Salem, N. C., Dr. Moore started his propaganda for better rural schools. He has procured the assistance of the business and professional element in every section of the state. The association adopted the plans of Dr. Moore and elected a strong board composed of representative business and professional men to push the work. There are several prominent white persons on the board, among them being Hon. J. G. Joyner, superintendent of education of North Carolina.

The aims of the extension department of the North Carolina State Teachers' association, as set forth by Dr. Moore, are the following:

A public school improvement league organized in every school district in the state.

A good public school building in every district in the state.

The patronage of every public school co-operating with the county authorities to make the school better.

An active, competent, working teacher in charge of every school in the state.

Better paid teachers who will make themselves competent to instruct pupils in the essentials of rural requirements.

Special tax voted in every district for the improvement of public school.

A united effort by all denominations for the advancement of public school.

A campaign waged in every county against preventable diseases which are destroying the Negro population and which produces a burden and menace to public welfare.

A united effort among both colored and white citizens of our state to solve the problems of education, health and mutual helpfulness each to the other.

The appointment of an equitable number of Negro farm extension workers as provided for by the Smith-Lever bill.

To secure a more equitable division of the public school fund by reason of the impetus given to the improvement of the schools by the self help and sacrifice of the colored people themselves.

A paid organizer who shall study local conditions and organize in each county a board whose duty shall be to organize township boards and hold school improvement rallies for the benefit of their own local school and give needed information as to the present means afforded by counties and special funds and how much help may be obtained.

Within a short time a state organizer will be at work co-operating with religious and fraternal bodies throughout the state. This is an index of what such religious bodies in North Carolina are contributing for the uplift of the masses.

JAMES B. DAVIS

Brazil Republican Announces Congressional Candidacy in Fifth District

Bears Endorsement of Young Republicans Colored Vote Solid Behind Him

The Indianapolis Recorder has the pleasure of announcing the candidacy of James B. Davis of Brazil, Clay county, for the office of representative of the Fifth Congressional District, subject to the will of the Republican party.

Mr. Davis is a representative of the younger element of the party and he decided to enter the race for the honor, after he was urged to make the race, and was promised the support of a number of the most prominent leaders over the district who believe that a young progressive business man is exactly the kind of a candidate the party needs in this district.

Mr. Davis is primarily a business man. He is a banker of Brazil and is active vice-president of the Davis Trust Company, and is also interested in a number of other business interests. Mr. Davis is well prepared for the office to which he aspires.

He was born in Knightsville, Ind., Clay county, but his family moved to Brazil when he was a boy and he attended the Brazil schools. Later he attended Culver Military Academy, where he received an Academic education and also a valuable military training. He did his collegiate work at De Pauw University at Greencastle and did his post-graduate work at Harvard, in the law department of that institution.

Mr. Davis then became associated with a large financial institution of St. Louis, Mo. Here his travels over that state in the interests of banking gave him a close insight into relations of farmers to the banks and he is as well fitted as any man in the district to predict the outcome of the various laws that have been advocated recently for rural credits.

Mr. Davis is a staunch Republican. He is a believer in the protective tariff as advocated by his party; a business-like administration and more economy in public office. He is also an advocate of peace, backed up by an adequate military and naval defense.

In speaking of his candidacy, Mr. Davis says:

"I believe the time is now here to get the Fifth District back in the Republican column where it belongs, with a platform of a safe and sane business administration; economy in public office, a scientific protective tariff that will maintain good wages in America. I am confident that the party will be victorious. I believe that I am able to lead the party to that victory in the district."

BISHOP WALTERS SPEAKS.

Noted Churchman Gives Political Views in Lecture at Jones Tabernacle, Monday Night.

To a representative audience at Jones Tabernacle, last Monday night, Bishop Alexander Walters, one of the greatest Negroes in the public eye of today, spoke at length on the political status of the Negro race and what the future holds in store for the race as a political factor in this country. Beginning with 1787, he reviewed the early organization of political parties up to the formation of the Republican party in 1856. Beginning with the enactment of the war amendments granting suffrage to the Negro, he showed in detail what the Negro had gained and what he had also lost in the exercise of his political heritage. Bishop Walters, who gained a nationwide prominence by his advocacy of the election of Wilson and Marshall, the Democratic nominees in 1912, and who has been in the public eye, in his firm opposition to the anti-Negro policies of the Wilson administration, said concerning his own political future: "The Republican party in 1912 needed to be taught a lesson and from present day indications has more than profited by that lesson." "I believe and urge," said Bishop Walters, "that the Negro should vote for and support the Republican ticket in 1916, providing the objectionable nominees are not named to lead that ticket. The Democratic party, dominated by its southern wing, has not measured up to its opportunities."

The coterie of Colored Democrats, said Bishop Walters, who supported President Wilson, will continue to espouse the Democratic principles in this coming campaign. As for myself I expect to die as well as live as a Democrat. I feel that my life's work is before me along that line, and even in the face of opposition and criticism, I shall continue my efforts towards the political emancipation of the Negro. I am not a seeker of political office, and I am independent of any or all influences that tend to prevent them from advocating right and justice, so why should I not continue to speak out, when and wherever I have the opportunity, said the good bishop.

The magic word for the Negro, stated Bishop Walters, is "Organization." The leaders must work out some definite policy that success might be attained, and the race must continue to exercise its political prerogatives. The young lawyers of the race must wake up and take front rank in the battle for justice.

After the lecture a banquet was served by the ladies of the church, and many speeches were made endorsing the work of Bishop Walters. Attorney R. L. Brokenburr was chairman of the meeting and Rev. W. I. Rowan, pastor, Bishop Walters left Tuesday morning for Washington, D. C.

ring" in behalf of the Alpha Home for Aged Colored Women and will be at Jones Tabernacle, Sunday, August 29, at 4:00 o'clock and deliver an address to the Colored citizens. MASTER THEO. H. CLAY, READER.
Hear Him at Jones Tabernacle, Aug. 30

Master Theodore H. Clay, whose portrait appears here, is one of the coming readers of the race. Still in short pants, he has more than surprised his hearers as an expounder of Paul Dunbar and D. Webster Davis, as well as many other authors. In humorous dialect, character sketches and in song he is indeed a marvel. Master Clay is now booking fall engagements and churches that are planning their fall entertainments will do well to secure his appearance, as a real treat for the public. Miss Mayme E. Clay, 349 West Thirtieth street, Indianapolis, is managing this young prodigy.

SPECIAL CONTEST PLANNED FOR COLORED BABIES.

A special contest for colored babies will be made a part of "Baby week," October 3 to 9, according to the newly outlined plans of the committee of citizens in charge of arrangements for the week.

The idea of holding a special contest for the colored babies was the outgrowth of a suggestion of Frank H. Wheeler, who, at the time of donating the $25 first prize for the free-for-all contest, suggested that, as there were many colored children among the patients at the Pure Milk Stations, a contest be held exclusively for them. Mr. Wheeler has agreed to contribute these prizes also, and it has been decided to give two awards, $15 for the first prize and $10 for the second. The contributions were made through Mrs. Joseph B. Keating, chairman of the committee on prizes.

The aggregate list of prizes is now $200. This will be divided into three prizes of $25, $20 and $15 for the free-for-all, the Pure Milk Stations contest for which the prizes will be $15, $10 and $5, and the institutions contest, for which two prizes will be given, $10 and $5, and the contest for colored babies, with two prizes of $10 and $5. Registrations for the colored baby contest must be made at the headquarters for the committee at 88 Baldwin Block. Any Indianapolis-born baby under 2 years of age may be entered.

INDUSTRIAL HOME SCHOOL
OPENS FOR WAYWARD GIRLS

Constructive Work of Virginia State Federation of Colored Women's Clubs.

By WILLIAM ANTHONY AERY. An industrial school for wayward colored girls, founded by the Virginia State Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, has been opened on a small scale at Peake, in Hanover county, Va. The colored women of Virginia have raised nearly $6,000 and have bought a farm of 147 acres. They have received from white friends over $2,000. The legislature of Virginia has appropriated $6,000.

Girls are now working on the land and living in temporary quarters. They are learning habits of industry, punctuality and self control. The site meets the requirements of the home for accessibility, water supply, drainage and water power. The home school has the indorsement, sympathy and co-operation of those who command the confidence of the people of Virginia.

Some 500 wayward colored girls in Virginia are in need of home care and industrial training. These girls will fall into trouble and reach the jails unless a helping hand is extended to them. Jails are hotbeds of moral disease from which these girls should be kept. Wayward girls are often feeble minded. They need protection and not punishment, interesting work and not abuse or exploitation. They are now a liability to the state and nation. They can be helped through an improved environment.

Janie Porter Barrett, a graduate of Hampton Institute and the founder of the Locust Street Social settlement in Hampton, Va., who is the secretary of the Virginia State Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, is making an appeal for money which must be provided for food, clothing, farm implements, household furnishings, new cottages and growth to meet real needs. She has succeeded in enlisting the co-operation of hundreds in this social service work, in which Virginia is taking the lead.

The board of managers and building committee represent the best interests of white and colored Virginians. They include Mrs. Henry L. Schmelz, Hampton; Mrs. Beverly Mumford, Richmond; Captain John L. Roper, Norfolk; Mrs. Maggie L. Walker, Richmond; Rev. W. R. Bowie, Richmond; Rev. William H. Stokes, Richmond; Miss Mary Hav. Hanover; Mrs. Frank W. Darling, Hampton; Mrs. Harris Barret, Hampton; Major R. R. Moton, Hampton Institute; and Dr. J. T. Mastin, Richmond.

Mr. Frank W. Darling, the well known oyster packer, of Hampton, Va., is the treasurer. He is also one of the trustees of Hampton Institute and for many years has been a helpful friend to good colored people.

The home school project, in short, has enlisted the co-operation and support of warm hearted, far-sighted men and women regardless of race or social position. The colored club women of Virginia are determined to make this pioneer work a distinct success.

Shriners Honor Local Man.

The seventeenth annual session of the Imperial Council, Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine came to an end with the election of officers and their installation, at Lafayette Hall, last Friday, at New York City. Chicago was chosen as the place of meeting for the next session.

Among the 500 or more who attended the session were a number of right eminent grand commanders, past grand high priests, past grand masters, grand masters and other Masons of high degree. The visiting Masons were entertained in high style by Medina Temple, of this city, and as the Mystic Shriners left for their homes in various sections of the country, they gave a fond farewell to Manhattan and its hospitable citizens.

The annual address of the retiring imperial potentate, Noble John H. Murphy, of Baltimore, was received with great applause and extracts thereof were ordered to be printed and sent to Temples in various sections of the country.

CLARENCE E. DUNLOP

Noble Murphy, who served two years as imperial potentate, was given the honors of a past imperial potentate, and was also voted a fine gold watch. The same will be suitably inscribed within, while outside of the case will contain the insignia of the Mystic Shrine. Much regret was expressed at the inability of Mr. Murphy to attend the sessions.

Groves, St. Louis, first lieutenant grand commandress; Mrs. Francis Butler, of New York, second lieutenant grand commandress; Mrs. Prudence Penn, of Philadelphia, high priestess; Mrs. Laura Williams, of Chicago, recorder; Mrs. Mary I. Miller, of Washington, treasurer; Mrs. Cora Brown, of Kansas City, oriental guide; Mrs. Julia Rice, of Montclair, N. J., first ceremonial daughter; Mrs. Mary L. Sermon, of Providence, R. I., second ceremonial daughter; Miss Roseta Hodgins, of Memphis, Tenn., inside spy; Mrs. Mary E. Green, of Boston, outside spy.

The report of the Shriners committee on finance and accounts showed a balance in the treasury of $22,000. The order donated $25 to the Daughters of Isis.

Th committees of the Daughters of Isis reported twenty-one courts represented; 600 members and more than $200 collected from all sources during the year. Mrs. Cassie Melker, of St. Paul, Minn., past imperial grand commandress, who presided at the session, was the recipient of many handsome presents as tokens of the esteem in which she is held by members of the order. Naja Court presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers; Myzpah Court a handsome pin; Mrs. J. H. Lewis, of Jacksonville, Fla., a large box of candy and the Imperial Grand Court a gold bracelet.

Removes Hair Instantly

Hair on face, neck, shoulders or under arms can be removed in a minute with "Instanto", the sanitary liquid. A single application and the hair vanishes. All you can see is the skin, smooth and clear. The hair will not return for a long time, and when it finally does reappear, it will be softer and finer than before, so that after another simple application it will disappear for a still longer period. "Instanto" actually retards future hair growths. All other methods, such as shaving, singeing, etc., promote hair growth and make it come back coarser and thicker than before. This is also true of pastes and powdered depilatories which require scraping and irritate the skin. So highly antiseptic are the ingredients of "Instanto" that many physicians use them for removing hair before operations.

For years thousands of women have used "Instanto" to remove all hair blemishes. Today, since the introduction of low-cut gowns and sheer blouses more use it than ever before.

PERSIAN SKIN BEAUTY

A Bleach and Skin Food

Famous specialists who cater to titled ladies and others of social prominence, employ a remarkable method of complexion rejuvenation. One undergoing this treatment visits the beauty parlor late in the afternoon, has something dabbed over her face, then heavily veiled, departs in her motor car. This is repeated daily for a week or so, when a complexion of perfect smoothness, purity and exquisite delicacy is in evidence.

Persian Skin Beautifier is this method for health and beauty of the skin—an ideal bleach and beauty cream.

Its success is due to a peculiar absorbent property which gradually removes wornout particles of cuticle, revealing the younger, healthier skin beneath.

WILL NOT GROW HAIR

Cleanse face thoroughly each night with a pure soap and warm water and apply a quantity to the skin, gently rubbing it until well absorbed.

Makes the Skin Soft, Smooth and Pliable

Sixty years ago women were often faded, wrinkled and old at 25 or 30. But today, with the aid of recent discoveries by great specialists, a woman should look comparatively young at 50.

Age has become largely a question of keeping the muscles of the cheeks from sagging; or warding off the formation of wrinkles and marks of age, and keeping the skin smooth, soft and velvety.

Sagging facial muscles often entirely change the whole contour of a woman's face, giving it an extremely aged look.

Purpose of the Donovan Fund Failure.
It is reported that legal steps have been taken to wind up the Caroline Donovan trust fund at Baltimore, created about twenty-nine years ago for the purpose of encouraging colored Americans to emigrate to Liberia. The fund was operated by the American Colonization society. That scheme is not popular with the race in America is shown by the fact that only about 16,000 have emigrated to Africa during the existence of the American colonization society. The petition states that transportation to Africa has ceased. The fund in question at the present time amounts to $80,000.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson VIII.—Third Quarter, For Aug. 22, 1915.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Chron. xv, 1-15.
Memory Verses, 1, 2—Golden Text, Jas. iv, 8—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

In the story of Jeroboam we had a sample of all the kings of the ten tribes, for there was not a good king among them. They all walked in the ways of Jeroboam, son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin. There were a few—just eight, I think—among the kings of Judah who did right in the eyes of the Lord, and Asa of today's lesson was one of them (verses 1, 2). His father, Abijah, son of Rehoboam, reigned only three years (xiii, 1, 2). The Lord gave him and his army a victory over the army of Jeroboam because they relied upon the Lord God of their fathers (xiii, 12, 18). His words in xiii, 12, are always helpful—"Behold, God Himself is with us for our captain." While the story of Asa is told in part of a chapter in the book of Kings (I Kings xv, 8-24), it occupies three chapters in Chronicles (xiv, xvi, xvii), the first two telling of his thirty-five years of faithfulness and blessing and the last telling of five years of disobedience. What a pity that such a good king with such a long reign should waste his later years in wandering from God! But such always is man when he turns away from God. We cannot think of Asa as a lost man, though he acted so badly at the last, but he lost part of the full reward which might have been his (II John 8; I Cor. iii, 11-15).

Quietness and rest on every side and a whole hearted seeking, the Lord God marked the first ten years or more of his reign (xiv, 1-7; xv, 12-15). Such rest and peace and quietness is the privilege of every true believer, and when He giveth quietness who then can make trouble whether in the case of a nation or a man only (Job xxxiv, 29). It is our privilege too to foretaste the kingdom when the work of righteousness shall be peace, and the effect or service of righteousness quietness and assurance forever (Isa. xxxiii, 1, 17). The same Lord is ever saying to all, "Come unto me, * * * and I will give you rest" (Matt. xi, 28-30), and it is written, "We who have believed do enter into rest" (Heb. iv, 3). The great adversary hates peace always, and so he stirred up the Ethiopians with an army of over a million to go against Asa, who had only about half as many men, but Asa cried unto the Lord his God in the words of that ever memorable prayer of chapter xiv, 11, so brief yet so comprehensive, which has helped me many a time, and will prove a comfort and strength to all who appropriate it.

Every day and hour we should say, "We rest on Thee, and in Thy name we go." Compare part of the prayer of Jehoshaphat in chapter xx, 12, which we may also continually appropriate. Although the Ethiopians were such a huge host, yet because Asa relied on the Lord He delivered them into his hand, for the eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth to show Himself strong in the behalf of (or as in the margin, strongly to hold with) them whose heart is perfect (or whole) toward Him (chapter xvi, 8, 9). This ninth verse is and has been for long years a continual strength and comfort to me and is working in me an increasing desire to have a whole heart for Him, and to see no one save Jesus only. The Spirit of God brought a message of encouragement to Asa by Azariah, whose name means the strength of Jehovah, which is found in lesson verses 1-7, and the exhortation in verse 7 is for us also who believe, "Be ye strong, therefore, and let not your hands be weak, for your work shall be rewarded." Salvation is never of works, but always to him that worketh not but believeth (Rom. iv, 5); but we are thus saved by grace in order to serve the Living and True God, and all true service unto Him shall be rewarded (Luke xiv, 14; Rev. xxii, 12; II John 8).

We need always the exhortation of Eph. vi, 10, "Be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might." Asa, being thus encouraged, cleansed the land of idols, even destroying that of his own mother, but this cleansing was chiefly in Judah and Benjamin, many of the high places still remaining in Israel, over which he had no control; and yet many out of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and Simeon, and other tribes led to him in abundance when they saw that the Lord his God was with him; all because he was seeking the Lord with all his heart and soul (verses 8-15). They also renewed the altar and offered sacrifices, and there was no more war until the thirty-fifth year of his reign. But the next year the king of Israel came against him, and instead of relying upon the Lord, he made a league with the king of Syria. This brought a reproof from the Lord by Hannani the seer, who reminded Asa how the Lord had wrought marvelously for him against the Ethiopians because he relied upon Him and how foolishly he had now acted by relying upon the king of Syria (xvi, 7-9).

Asa, being out of fellowship with the Lord, gave place to the devil, became angry with the seer, and put him in prison and oppressed some of the people (xvi, 10). Near the close of his reign he became greatly diseased in his feet, but in this also he turned away from the Lord to purely human help.

optimism, and his native ability to master every detail of a large organization was strikingly brought out. Being one of our ablest leaders and knowing the peculiar needs of the race, Colonel Young presented a number of recommendations that will mean much to the furtherance of the splendid progress the fraternity is making throughout the state under his leadership. His address was enthusiastically received, and he was given a great ovation when he concluded his speech.

The reports of the other grand lodge officers showed unprecedented progress of the fraternity in his district for the past year. The endowment department is in line shape. The report of Grand Secretary Johnson of Salisbury, N. C., was another pertinent feature of the business sessions. The city auditorium, one of the finest in the south, was packed with a representative audience of both races to witness the public exercises of the district grand lodge.

The mayor of the city delivered the welcome address on behalf of the city. He gave many interesting facts relative to the progress of the Negro in Raleigh and indicated that the splendid relationship between the races was due in a large measure to intelligent leadership.

Insurance Commissioner James Young, one of the chief speakers, highly complimented the heads of the endowment departments of this fraternity and also those of the Masonic order. He said that the endowment department of the Masons of this jurisdiction was the best of its kind among our people and that this condition was brought about largely through business methods used by the leaders of these secret orders.

The Rev. C. S. Brown, Dr. R. B. Murray, Colonel James H. Young and other members of the grand lodge in official capacity made the delegates and visitors welcome to all the business and social features of the session. The opinion prevails that the order will receive many new members during the coming year on account of the splendid way in which the work in the state is being conducted. The recent session of every point of view was one of the very best in the history of the organization in this state.

The local lodges and Households of Ruth tendered the delegates a grand banquet at Shaw university, which was easily the leading social event of the session. The grand street parade was witnessed by thousands as the grand lodge delegates passed along the principal streets of the city. The various companies of patriots received hearty applause as they executed skillful maneuvers on the line of march.

25 PURDUE EXPERTS AT THE INDIANA STATE FAIR

A staff of about 25 experts from Purdue University will spend the week of Sept. 6 at the Indiana State Fair, giving their entire attention to helping Hoosier farmers with their farm problems. This is one of the greatest educational forces at the Indiana Fair, and is one of many educational features that the exposition always offers to the tillers of the soil, breeders and fruit growers of the state. The Purdue exhibit is being entirely re-organized for the coming Fair and it, as well as the instruction, will keep pace with the advancing interests of people from the farms.

The Purdue dairy exhibit, demonstrations and discussions will make this kind of instruction of still more benefit to men and women from the farms who come to the Fair. The Purdue chemists will instruct the farmers in the sale of feeding stuffs and fertilizers, as the new state law requires, and an extensive exhibit of fertilizers will be shown. Soil and crop improvement, rotation of crops, farm drainage, cultivation, and many more subjects will be treated by the Purdue men. Fighting hog cholera, garden and orchard pests, poultry raising, and other lines of farming activity will be other kinds of instruction available. The Purdue instruction and exhibits will, in fact, make short cuts to scientific farming that every farm man and woman may go home from the Fair with new ideas. The State Food Commissioner will have a unique display showing weights and measures of legal and illegal kind, sanitation in keeping foods, fraudulent medicines and drugs.

TERRE HAUTE, IND.

William H. Taft, ex-President of the United States, was in our city last Sunday at 1 o'clock p. m. He came in from the east on the Big Four train at 12:59. He was greeted by a large crowd that had assembled on the above occasion. He went direct to Rockville to deliver a speech on the Presidency, The Duties of a President, etc. Over seventy-five automobiles were in line for Rockville, headed by the John's automobile, of Rockville, in which Mr. Taft rode. Mr. Taft is a great man and should be president of the U. S. for another four years. Mr. John H. Russell, 75 years old, died at his home in Otter Creek township, about ten miles northeast of Terre Haute, on last Friday morning after a lingering illness of several months. He was born in North Carolina. He owned a nice farm and was considered as one of the successful business farmers of Vigo county. He had lived a sinner nearly all his life until a short time before his death when he expressed a hope in Christ and said "I am ready and prepared to die." His funeral was preached at his residence by Rev. Powell, pastor of the A. M. E. church, in Lost Creek settlement, on last Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He leaves a wife, one son, two daughters, one brother and many relatives and friends to mourn his loss. Uncle "Dock" as he was generally known, will be sadly missed by all. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stokes, Mrs. Willa Waugh and her two daughters, Mrs. Sarah Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Russell, all attended the funeral of the late Mr. Russell. Grand Chancellor E. G. Tidrington and Mrs. Tidrington were in our city last week for two days, guests of Prof. and Mrs. F. D. Blake. The carnival at Allen Chapel is being held this week. The grand opening was on Tuesday evening. The fraternity band played nice music on that occasion. A queen is to be selected. Among those who are candidates are Lois Holland, Mame Donaldson and Agnes Clark. The Grand Lodge of F. and A. M. is holding its annual session in Richmond, Ind., this week. Those who are attending from Terre Haute are Messrs. Frank M. Smith, R. A. Brown, B. F. Kennedy, E. C. Roach, David Jenkins and Fred D. Blake. Mrs. Margaret Miller, of Frankfort, Ky., is visiting her brother, John Jackson, this week. Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Cole, of St. Louis, were visitors in our city last week, guests of Mr. George Evans. Mr. and Mrs. John Walden are visiting in Richmond, Ind., guests of Mr. Walden's sister. Rev. M. L. Hagood preached two excellent sermons last Sunday. His morning subject was "Sufferings Contrasted," his evening subject was "Christian Hope." The Sunday school met at 9 o'clock a. m. The Epworth League met at 7 o'clock p. m. On Wednesday evening of this week a very nice literary program was rendered. Ever since the Rev. Hagood took charge of Sautter's Chapel, last March, the work in this church has steadily increased in attendance and financially. Rev. W. C. Irvin's subject on last Sunday morning was, "Can a Christian Hide His Identity?" His evening subject was "Going into the Street Called Straight." The pastor is now rounding up his year's work for annual conference which meets in Indianapolis, Sept. 15, 1915. He has had a very successful year and will be able to make a good spiritual report and also a very good financial report. Rev. M. W. Sparks is rounding up his third year's work as pastor of Spruce Street A. M. E. church. His work is very commendable. His Sunday morning's subject was "Woman." Woman's Day was observed in this church last Sunday all day. An excellent program was given on Sunday night. The following persons were on program: Miss Nevada Jackson, Mrs. H. C. Russell, Mrs. C. F. Stokes, Mrs. Annie Olesby, Miss Clara Hill, and a solo by Mrs. Viola Pettiford. The choir rendered some excellent music. The collection for the day was $24.50. Mrs. J. E. McCurdy, of Richmond, was in our city last week and succeeded in organizing a branch of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. James Henson was made president and Mrs. A. D. Ashworth, secretary.
